New Mystery Piles Up in Pontiac Torture-Burning

THOUSAND MORE YANKEES COMPLETES MOVEMENT OF TROOPS TO BEIRUT

By EDWIN SHANKE

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—One thousand more U. S. troops arrived in Lebanon today. An American military spokesman said this completed the movement of troops assigned here.

There are now more than 14,000 U. S. soldiers and Marines here. The troops debarking from the transport, Gen. Geiger, included a hospital unit, signals and signals photos units and a graves registration team.

Gen. Fuad Shénab, Lebanon's army chief who was elected president of the nation last week as a compromise in a three-month rebellion, declared Monday withdrawal of U. S. troops was foremost among the national aims.

Preliminary Discussions Continuing

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. delegates are continuing private discussion of arrangements for a Security Council summit meeting while awaiting word whether Soviet Premier Khrushchev will attend.

In the absence of word from the Soviets, there has been no scheduling of a preliminary meeting of the Council to set a time and place for the government chiefs to gather.

There was speculation in Moscow and at U. N. headquarters that Khrushchev's acceptance or rejection of the Western invitation to a Council meeting might be made public at the U. N., not in the Soviet capital.

Diplomats leaning to this view pointed out that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan in their last letters to the Soviet chief had not requested an answer specifically but had said they were going ahead to arrange a summit Security Council meeting to start around Aug. 12.

These sources felt it would be logical for the Soviet U. N. delegate, Arkady Sobolev, to (Turn to Page Seven)

Price Increases Posted By More Steel Companies

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three more steel firms, including the nation's two largest, today increased the cost of selected steel items in the second round of the industry's piecemeal price adjustments.

Posting higher prices for such products as bars, rods, wire and tubular items were U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem and Inland. U. S. Steel is the giant of the industry, Bethlehem the No. 2 producer and Inland No. 8.

They followed the lead set last week by Republic Steel, third-ranking producer, and other smaller firms.

U. S. Steel and Inland said increases average about 3 per cent. Bethlehem did not announce any specific figures for its list.

State to Open Bids on Route 62 Relocation on August 29

Pennsylvania Highway Department Monday asked for bids to relocate U. S. Route 62 for 3.93 miles extending from the tip of the North Warren three-lane highway to north of Akeley, by-passing Russell to the west.

At a public hearing on the proposed relocation a few weeks ago, a highway department spokesman estimated the project would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

Several representatives of Northern Area school district were on hand at the meeting, asking what precautions would be made for the many jointure school buses crossing the intersection of the new highway and Route 957.

It is not known what effect these protests had on state highway officials. They said state signs were usual safety

Integration Encountering New Obstacle

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Racial integration of public schools in the South is running up against the twin barriers of judicial delay and legislative defiance.

A court determination of how long integration can be delayed is in the making at St. Louis only one level below the nation's highest court. There the seven-judge 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals is considering the legality of a 2½-year suspension of integration at one of the focal points of the whole, far-flung integration dispute—Little Rock's Central High School. A ruling is expected before the schools open in the fall.

A still longer delay of seven years was granted by a U. S. district court judge in bringing the races together at schools in Virginia's Prince Edward County, which figured in the Supreme Court's 1954 integration ruling. State officials hailed the delay as realistic and gratifying, while attorneys for Negro children seeking admission to white schools pondered whether to appeal.

Enactment of segregation laws has continued apace in the South. The Southern School News, published by the Southern Education Reporting Service, disclosed today in Nashville (Turn to Page Seven)

Federation of Labor Favors an Income Tax

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor has sent letters to the Democratic and Republican platform committees proposing a graduated income tax to replace the state's 3 per cent sales tax.

Leaders of the PFL and other labor leaders made a similar request here at hearings held by the Democratic platform group.

"We propose the enactment of a graduated income tax with adequate allowance for dependents and the elimination of the existing sales taxes," President Joseph A. McDonough said in the letters Monday.

The State Constitution prohibits a graduated income tax and efforts to amend the Constitution have failed in recent years.

$26,000 in Snatched Purse Is Recovered

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—A teen-ager snatched a woman's purse and fled Monday. In the purse was $26,000.

But, said police, the youth removed a wallet, then dropped the purse. The money wasn't in the wallet—it was stuffed in several envelopes.

Anastasia Krouses, 38, a Greek national living in Long Beach, told officers she had been carrying that money around with her for more than a year.

"In Greece, everybody carries money with them," she said. Police said the cash included fourteen $1,000 bills.

Her 36 Measurement Foils Escape Effort

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jeanne Brown, a 35-22-36 cocktail waitress in jail on a drunkenness charge, tried to leave her cell by way of the small opening through which food is passed to prisoners.

The 28-year-old squeezed her 36 through. The 22 was a cinch. But at the 36, her escape attempt came to an end.

Hacksaws freed her for another cell.

Dulles Opens Talks With Brazilians

By JULIUS GOLDEN

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles began talks with Brazil's leaders today after a handful of students marred his warm welcome briefly with jeers and a "Go Home" banner.

Dulles' program for the first full day of his 60-hour visit included talks with Foreign Secretary Francisco Negro de Lima and then a meeting with President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Dulles said on arrival Monday he would talk about the world situation, inter-American relations with special attention to economic problems and U.S.-Brazilian relations.

The Brazilians were most interested in what Dulles would have to say about coffee, their chief export crop, and U.S. aid in developing Brazilian oil resources. A meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers or even heads of governments to study economic and other problems has been suggested by Kubitschek.

The Soviet Union has been seeking recently to renew diplomatic and commercial ties with Brazil and has stepped up its economic campaigns in neighboring countries. Brazil broke diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union in 1947 after a number of Soviet verbal attacks on her, and the government has reported a number of Communist subversive plots in recent years.

Dulles' route from the embassy to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs took him by the headquarters of the leftist National Students Union at 50 miles an hour. Students leaned out the windows jeering and whistling, a Latin-American form of boing. The building was draped in black and signs said "Dulles Go Home," "Petrobras (the state-owned oil company) Is Untouchable" and "The United States Has No Friends, Just Interests," the latter a quotation attributed to Dulles.

Father and Son Team To Defend Woman Murderer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A well-known Indianapolis father-and-son lawyer team was hired Monday by divorcee Connie Nicholas to defend her in the killing of drug company executive Forrest Teel.

Charles W. Symmes announced he and his father, Frank A. Symmes, will defend the twice-divorced woman.

The younger Symmes indicated Mrs. Nicholas' strategy would be self-defense.

Her right eye is swollen shut," he said. "Someone really slugged her."

He visited the 42-year-old woman in General Hospital Monday. She continued to improve from an overdose of sleeping pills she took shortly after the married 54-year-old executive vice president of the Eli Lilly & Co. was shot last Thursday.

When she awoke from a coma Saturday, she told police she shot Teel in a violent argument after he left the apartment of a newer friend, Laura L. Mowrer, 29.

Detective Capt. Michael Smiley said he will ask for a first-degree murder indictment, which could result in the death penalty.

Patrolman Eugene Hatchett caught Shirley Sherard, 16, through a police artist's sketch of the two assailants.

She led police to Harriet Fleming, 19. Both girls are Negro.

Shirley told police she merely watched as the Fleming girl cut Frieda Abdoh, daughter of Djalal Abdoh, in Bronx Park last May 10.

The Abdoh girls' dress was slashed and the little finger of her right hand cut. She was accompanied by her 12-year-old sister Mastly, who helped describe the assailants for police.

The Sherard girl was charged with juvenile delinquency because she was 15 at the time of the attack. The Fleming girl was held on a felonious assault charge.

Attempt to Put Up Lunar Satellite Could Come Soon

By VERN HAUGLAND

AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy W. Johnson, boss of the nation's moon rocket program, indicated today that the first attempt to put up a lunar satellite could come as early as next week.

Johnson told a reporter that the Defense Department hopes to decide this week on the date.

The director of the department's Advanced Research Projects Agency added that the date would be decided upon about five days in advance of the actual launching attempt.

This would conform closely with estimates of persons close to the lunar probe program that the earliest launching date under consideration was Aug. 15, and that the most likely dates would be Aug. 17-19.

A major goal of the attempt is to get pictures of the hidden side of the moon—not to hit the moon itself.

Johnson said that if the shot is completely successful, the probe will orbit several times around the moon. He emphasized that many things could prevent success of this first experimental shot.

Johnson also disclosed for the first time that the lunar satellite probably would be cylindrical in shape. He said that with its instruments it would weigh 50 to 60 pounds.

He explained that several lunar satellites have been built at the Naval Test Center, Inyokern, Calif., of various shapes and designs—"and we'll take one off the shelf."

The launching rocket will consist of a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile, and the second and third stages of the Vanguard satellite rocket. The (Turn to Page Seven)

New Regime in Iraq May Quit Baghdad Accord

By STAN CARTER

BAGHDAD (AP)—The head of the new government of Iraq in his first public statement on the Baghdad Pact gave strong indication Monday his regime is leaning toward withdrawal from the Western-sponsored alliance.

Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem, who led the revolt that dethroned and killed King Faisal, said in an interview that his government is giving careful study to the fact which U. A. R. President Nasser and the Soviet Union so often have assailed.

"The most important thing in this matter is friendship between Iraq and other states," Kassem declared. "This friendship is above any kind of pact or treaty."

"Though we have studied it, up until now we have been unable to get from those connected with the administration of the pact any details about the pact's function because these details were considered secret and are still secret to us," Kassem went on.

Kassem asserted there would be no interference by Nasser in Iraqi affairs.

Nor will Iraq interfere in the affairs of neighboring Jordan, Kassem continued. But he said he thinks a plebiscite should be held in Jordan to determine whether the people want King Hussein to keep his throne.

"GRUESOME DISCOVERY" SUDBURY, Ont. (AP)—A car containing three bodies was pulled Monday night from the French River. Police believed it had plunged into the river two years ago from a bridge then under construction.

Neither the identities nor the sex of the three bodies could be established immediately.

The car was found by a skin diver exploring the river bottom.

EX-CONVICT UNCLE WHO SWORE REVENGE IS SAID TO HAVE DISAPPEARED

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—New mystery piled up today in the human-torch burning of an ex-convict business agent for the Teamsters' Union. His ex-convict uncle, who swore revenge, has disappeared.

Herman Kierdorf, 63, was missing and sought on a warrant charging him with possessing a silencer for a pistol.

Herman had both sworn revenge for his nephew's burning and reported receiving a telephone threat of: "You'll be next."

Herman's nephew, Frank Kierdorf, 56, lay near death at a Pontiac hospital, his body burned nearly from head to foot.

Frank told authorities two gunmen he didn't know made a human torch of him Monday and he was positive the torture-burning was in some way connected with union business. Frank was tossed from a car to the hospital grounds.

Herman disappeared Monday night after persuading Frank to gasp out his pain-racked story.

County Prosecutor Frederick Ziem said a briefcase Herman Kierdorf left at a neighbor's home contained a German pistol with a home-made silencer.

Two telephones and another weapon also were found in a sock left at the neighbor's by Herman, Ziem said. He said that Herman "wouldn't tell us anything."

Earlier, the uncle was quoted as saying: "I don't have any idea who did it, but I'm going to find out."

Police said he was last seen as he left St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Monday afternoon.

Alerts were sent to neighboring police departments.

Frank at first would only whisper through his burned lips that he was "John Doe of Washington, D. C." Identity finally was established through fingerprints. He apparently had dug his finger tips into his palms as flames seared him.

Both nephew and uncle have been reluctant witnesses before the Senate Rackets Committee in its probe of the Teamsters' Union.

Frank Kierdorf said he was lured from his home and driven to a lonely woods where his sadistic captors poured an inflammable liquid on him and lit a match to him.

Kierdorf said the two men came to his house in nearby Flint late Sunday night and asked him to go with them on union organizing business, pulled a gun on him and took him in their car to the woods. They later dumped him on the grounds of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Doctors said it was amazing Frank Kierdorf still was alive. He had been burned over 85 per cent of his body. His arms, chest and legs were a mass of raw, black blisters. His hair had been burned off and his face was puffed twice its normal size.

The nephew told his story to George F. Taylor, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, late Monday and repeated "substantially the same" story today.

Taylor said Kierdorf today gave him a lead to the torture scene, outside Pontiac, but it was not located immediately.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was challenged by Senate investigators today to explain his alleged association with gangsters.

Hoffa, just sworn to tell the truth, sat poker faced, occasionally mopping his hands and lips with a handkerchief, as Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the Rackets Investigating Committee addressed him.

McClellan, reading from a prepared statement, said the committee's record is replete with testimony linking Hoffa's name with the underworld. He said Hoffa will be questioned extensively—possibly over a period of weeks on and off—about this.

Asked by reporters whether he cared to discuss the torture (Turn to Page Seven)

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Revenue Department today cautioned Pennsylvania motorists under 18 to stay off New York highways.

A breakdown in a reciprocity agreement between Pennsylvania and New York was responsible for the warning.

Pennsylvania licenses motorists at 16; New York, at 18. New York, however, has two other classifications for younger motorists.

One is a junior license which permits a 16-year-old to drive only during daylight hours and prohibits him from motoring in larger urban areas. This junior license was never recognized in Pennsylvania.

But this state allowed New Yorkers with a so-called student's license to operate in Pennsylvania. This is a license New York issues to 17-year-olds after passing a driver training course.

A department spokesman said five years of negotiations on recognizing various licenses between the two states fell apart when New York insisted that no Pennsylvania driver under 18 could drive in New York.

Presidential Candidates in Four Primary Fights Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two possibilities for the 1960 Democratic presidential race are expected to clear their local political hurdles in good style today as four states hold primary elections.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri are strong favorites to gain renomination in primaries in their states. Williams, the onetime boy wonder of Michigan politics, is seeking an unprecedented sixth term.

Other primaries are being held in West Virginia and Kansas. In all, voters in the four states will name candidates for 4 Senate seats, 41 House spots and 2 governorships.

Williams, who has done little campaigning, is opposed by William L. Johnson, a radio station operator at Ironwood. Another term at the statehouse would put Williams in a good position to bid for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 if he chooses.

Republican Sen. Charles E. Potter has no opposition in his primary race in Michigan. Williams' running mate, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, is opposed by Homer Martin, a former United Auto Workers president, in the Democratic senatorial primary. Eighteen House seats are up for nomination.

The fight for two senatorial berths highlights West Virginia's elections. The GOP incumbents, Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell, have no opposition.

But four Democrats have been locked in a tight struggle to win their party's nomination to run against Hoblitzell, who has been filling in for part of the term of the late Democratic Sen. Matthew Neely. The term has two more years.

Rep. Robert C. Byrd heads a list of three Democratic candidates for the right to oppose Revercomb for the six-year term. West Virginia also has to make nominations for six House seats.

Numerous Defects Reported In Erie's New $6,000,000 Memorial Junior Hi School

Through efforts of Erie Morning News staffers last week, startling facts were presented. Erie taxpayers on their new $6,000,000-plus Memorial Junior High School which was formally opened for classes 10 months ago. Numerous defects were found in the structure during a four-hour tour of News staff members.

Erie School Board met in a special session last week to hear a formal report on conditions at Memorial. The Board has appointed an independent architect to investigate the matter.

An editorial in Erie Morning News reported that "Another part of the story is that the $6 million building was finished only after hundreds of dollars worth of 'extra' work was done. Most of the 'extras' were desirable, but they apparently had not anticipated when construction was started."

Among some of the visible defects were: flaking ceilings, hanging plaster, cracking marble on steps, frayed gym ropes, doors that don't open, doors that don't fit properly, no ventilation, rust-covered equipment throughout the structure.

Doors are gaping enough that a cigarette lighter can be inserted. These gaps let in cold air, wind and snow—which was shoveled from floors and the pool room past winter.

Marble is cracked in the second floor lobby, the first floor entrance, and all over front terrace. In some places it has gaps in it large enough for a full grown man to put his finger through.

Caulking is bad or missing all over the building. Floors, walls and ceilings are stained from leaks. Some of the panic doors for emergency exiting do not operate properly.

Linoleum tile is loose in several rooms, doors from classrooms are hard to open. There is no ventilating system for either men's or women's faculty rooms or for ill students' recovery room.

WEST GREEDY; CARELESS TOO

By OSWALD JACOBY

There were two things wrong with South's two no-trump response. The first was that he only held 12 points, the second that he had no stopper in spades.

West opened the King of spades. East played the six to signal come on and West obliged with the seven. Two more spade leads finished with that suit and West was back in the lead.

Meanwhile, South had been doing some deceptive discarding. He let two diamonds go from dummy and a heart from his own hand. This wasn't much deception and shouldn't have done him any good. Even though the defenders failed to take the heart ace right away South would have to play one heart himself some time.

Actually, most West players would take the ace of hearts immediately after cashing the fourth spade, but this West was both greedy and careless.

It just never occurred to him that South would show up with a five-card diamond suit and West decided he might beat the hand two tricks. So West led his jack of clubs. South decided against a false card and won with the queen.

Now South led his one remaining heart and good old West ducked. South won in dummy, cashed dummy's ace of clubs and the rest of the tricks.

Two area girls in the contest were Joyce Guber, Altoona; and Carolyn Jones, Pittsfield.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—When a salesman can't sell his product, does the problem lie with the salesman or the product—or with insurmountable notions in the mind of the potential-buyer?

Salesmen of quite a few products have been asking themselves that question during this economic recession. Among them are the network television salesmen who still are trying to peddle almost a third of the fall season's prime evening viewing time.

We suggested Monday that television should reappraise its sales emphasis on the star theory and the audience rating theory. The suggestion, calculated to make any salesman mad as coming straight from an ivory tower, is simply to offer sponsors a good show and will be interested in the products it sees advertised.

"Look," said a salesman, "a good show doesn't sell itself to a sponsor. See It Now was a terrifically good show. Do you think CBS would have canned it if they could have sold it? The trouble isn't with what networks offer. It's with what advertisers think they want."

"I don't care who started the star system or the rating system. The point is they're HERE. They're what most sponsors WANT. Are you going to refuse to sell a car to a guy because he wants sidewall tires and you think he shouldn't have 'em?"

All right, let's pass the buck to the sponsors. There will be some good shows on the home screen in the new season. But some excellent, good and potentially good programs will be missing—not because the networks wished to kill them, but because no advertiser would sponsor them. They include See It Now, Project 20, Wide World, Kraft

Boyle's Comment

By HIL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—What is the main problem of a creative writer in this country?

"It's the pace of American life itself," said Budd Schulberg.

"It's so easy to get distracted. Too many things going on. Too many phones ringing. You have to find a place where you can dig in and be alone."

Budd, a strongly built, gregarious fellow with a face like a friendly grizzly bear, has a place of retreat. It's a small beach shack at Sarasota, Fla.

But he has had no time for privacy since he and his brother, Stuart, teamed up as movie producers, following the family tradition established by their noted father, B. P. Schulberg, a Hollywood picture pioneer.

Their first venture is the untold story of the renegade plume hunters in Florida's watery frontier wilderness. They plan next year to make a film on the capture of the Remagen Bridge across the Rhine in World War II. "But I want to keep on writing," said Budd, who is currently working on a Broadway production of one of his earlier novels, "The Disenchanted."

Budd is a writer who never has known real hunger himself, although he has written often about people who are hungrier for something—whether it be for food, power or love.

He sold a couple of short stories for $50 each while still a student at Dartmouth. After graduation he clicked with the slick paper magazines, worked on a dozen film scripts, then hit big with his first novel, "What Makes Sammy Run."

The film version of a later novel, "On the Waterfront," won an Academy Award.

Schulberg, a man with a vast appetite for living, likes to work hard and play hard. His prodigious researches have made him acquainted with enough rogues and rascals, caught and uncaught, to overflow Sing Sing. He goes for the off-beat character, whether the guy's a prisoner, prince or prelate.

"Sometimes I don't know whether the research I do is really work," he said "or a form of procrastination—to delay the actual writing."

"But I'm pretty fast once I start writing. I write my first draft in pencil on one of those long yellow legal pads. In fact I'm blocked without one—can't write until I do find one."

Budd makes corrections in his second draft, which he turns out on the typewriter. Then makes interlinear changes in it before having his third and final draft typed.

He turns out about 5,000 words a week when things are going well, but it's hard to keep up that average, he says.

Budd feels the biggest price any writer has to pay is failure because of refusal to compromise his material.

"But you have to be ready to fail rather than compromise," he said, "although the temptation to compromise is stronger than ever."

"But the most successful writers have become successful by trying to please themselves rather than the public. The public responds in the long run to the writer who stays true to himself."

Here is his advice to a beginning writer.

"Love or hate something. Learn as much as you can and crystallize your own attitudes—so you won't imitate anybody else."

"Then take the thing you know the best and feel strongest about and write it in your own way. If you don't feel strongly about anything, you probably won't be able to write well about it."

Technicians and Families Enjoy Pleasant Outing

Warren State Hospital Psychiatric Technicians and their families gathered for an outing and picnic Saturday afternoon, at Wildcat Park, Ludlow.

By mid-afternoon a sizeable crowd had gathered to enjoy tennis, badminton, swimming and horseshoes, and by supper time the attendance had been augmented by arrivals from the day shift which added up to the largest crowd in Chapter's history.

Long tables fairly groaned under large pans of ham and baked beans together with casseroles of delectable home-cooked viands from the good wives' kitchens. 1958 members of the Technicians 1958 class were enthusiastically welcomed. Crowning feature of the event was the cutting of huge watermelons, chilled in a nearby tub.

Convenience offered at The Lodge and by the Park in general were appreciated by the Hospital workers.

WHAT HAPPENED TO SUMMER?

According to the daily report of our Weather Observer the mercury climbed to 80 Monday but dropped to 50 during the early morning hours today, which reminds us of an editorial in a recent issue of The New York Times, on the subject "What Happened to Summer" which says:

"Here it is August, days shortening and the sun, as we say, noticeably moving south. But what happened to summer? Six more weeks and it will be mid-September, goldenrod in bloom and sumac in color, autumn at hand. What did happen to summer?"

"Well, spring was late and chilly. May was cool and wet. June started off the same way, then turned warm and bright, though back in the hills there was frost on the 18th, one of those omens cherished by country prophets. Summer was going to be skipped, they said, evening things off for last summer's heat and drought.

"Thus far they have been disconcertingly right. The summer solstice, if it changed things at all, changed them for the worse. When it wasn't dank and chill, July was wet and humid. Mildew and damp diseases plagued the flower gardens. Vegetable gardens had parallel problems, compounded by hordes of insects. Weeds thrived. So did hay, but the farmers had their troubles getting that hay dry enough to store. And corn, lacking hot nights, sulked in the fields, even as vacationers, lacking hot days, sulked at seaside and hill resorts.

"So here is August, with enough rain already fallen this year to supply the greater part of any normal twelvemonth, and enough dank days and humid nights to dampen any normal summer's enthusiasm. Thus far this year we have had almost eight inches more rain than normal and the temperature chart has accumulated a deficit of almost 200 degrees. Maybe it is evening off for last summer. But August brings the opportunity for a more immediate evening-off, for hot, clear days and starry nights. For summer, in short, before autumn closes in."

An encouraging note this summer is the progress that is being made toward ultimate construction of a Municipal Swimming Pool. A reminder of the interest displayed is the note which says that members of the Swimming Pool committee who are visiting area pools may contact Frank Chiodo at the Warren Drug Store to pick up questionnaires covering the information the committee wishes to obtain for future consideration.

A full afternoon of exciting baseball competition is assured fans who attend the World Series Hot Stove Ball Games at War Memorial Field Saturday starting with the Bantams at 12 noon and continuing through the Juniors scheduled to get under way about 5:30. ### Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—American treaties with other countries circle the globe but the latest commitment — to the Baghdad Pact — can by itself be a stumbling block to any real settlement in the Middle East.

The United States helped create the Baghdad Pact — which was born in 1955 — but has avoided becoming an outright member. The members were Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan.

All but Britain lie across the southern Soviet frontier. The purpose was to unite them in a mutual defense agreement against any Soviet attack. It would also serve as a military wall against Soviet invasion of the Middle East.

We supplied arms to the pact countries, but stayed out of actual membership. Then the July revolt in Iraq all but ended that nation's participation. It probably will pull out. This brought the whole arrangement to the edge of disaster.

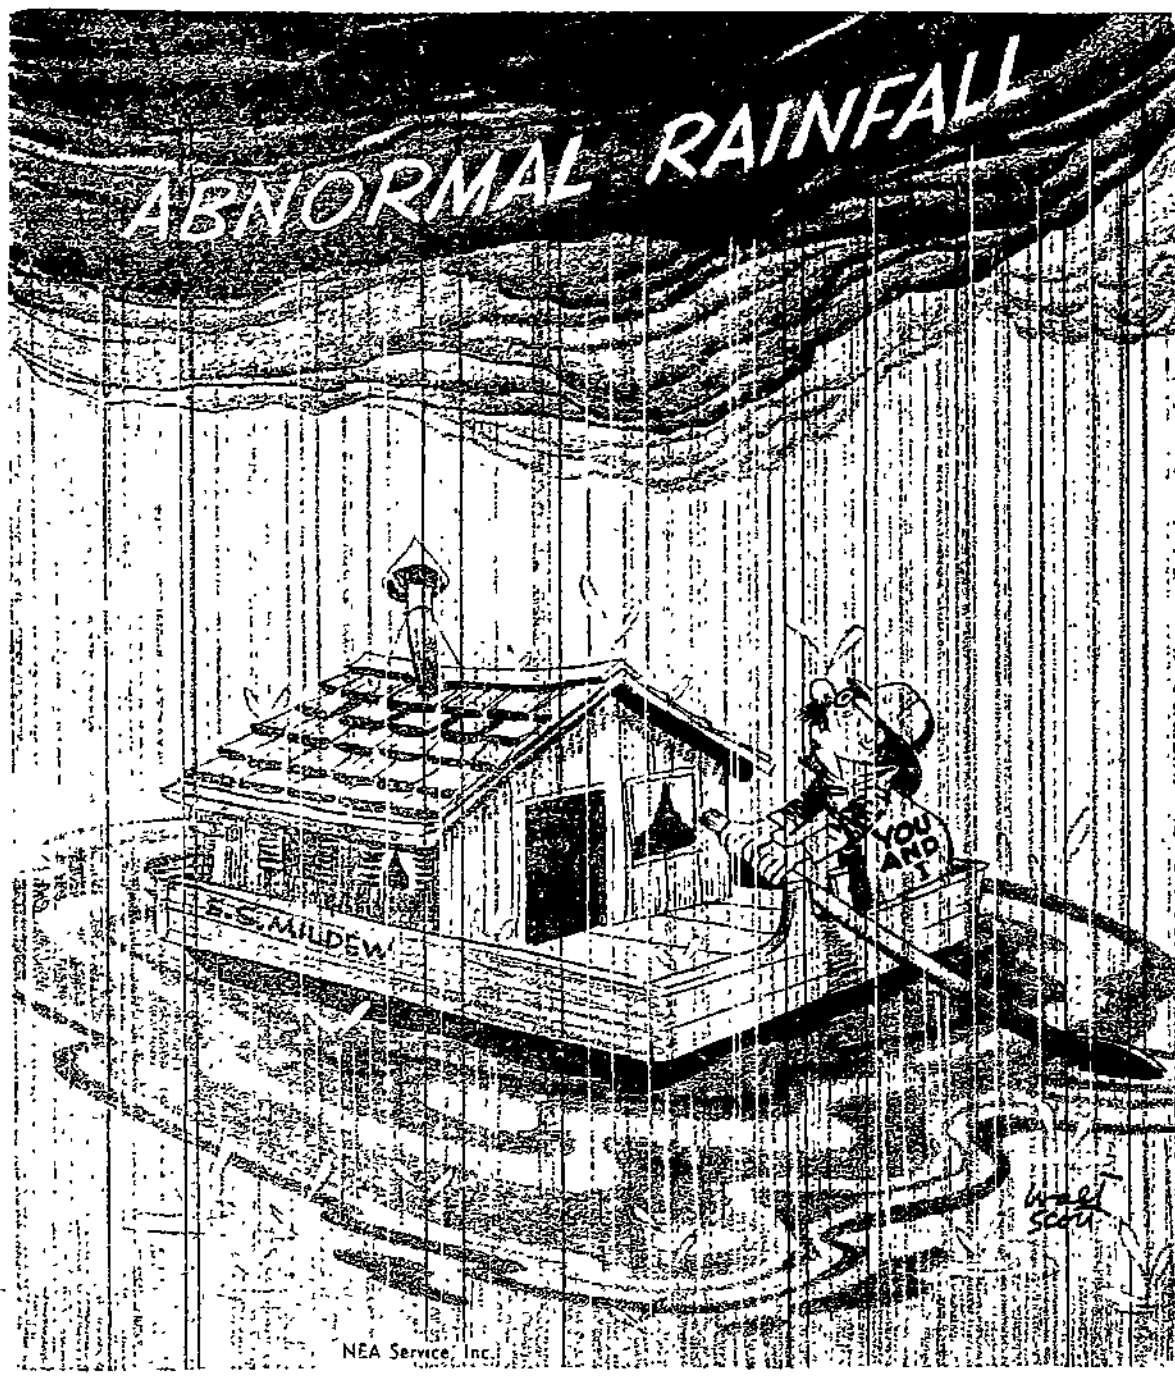

To avoid collapse of the pact Secretary of State Dulles last week signed an agreement committing the United States to defense of Iran, Turkey and Pakistan. This in effect made the United States a full-fledged partner, although still technically not a member.

Such an agreement now seems impossible. Before the Soviet Union agreed to a ban on arms shipments to the Middle East it almost certainly would want the pact countries in the area just south of it — Turkey, Iran and Pakistan — included among the nations which no longer could get arms.

But how can this country, after virtually joining the pact, now do an about-face and, even at the price of getting peace in the Middle East, agree to an arms embargo that applied to its new pact partners?

What will be the effect of American partnership in the pact? It can be stated on excellent authority that the Eisenhower administration feels there will be a good psychological effect, perhaps more

Here and There

During the debate on social security legislation in the House of Representatives today, Congressman Gavin gave his support to a general increase in benefits. In his remarks to the House, Mr. Gavin said that he was in thorough accord with the overall objectives of the Social Security program, but there were certain improvements he felt should be made. In particular he referred to the some 2 1/2-million old, destitute citizens who are on old-age assistance getting an average of less than $60 a month. He stated that in this day of high living costs, it is impossible for any person to live in minimum comfort and health on such a pittance, and they should have a minimum of $75 a month to meet their needs. Mr. Gavin said that in looking back over his years of experience in the Congress, he found that his participation in advancing the cause of old-age pensions gave him greater satisfaction than perhaps any other public service he had been privileged to render. During the course of his remarks to the House, the Congressman said that in the history of our Social Security and Old-Age Assistance System, it is gratifying to note that our senior citizens have not been forgotten. Since 1935, when our general Social Security program was enacted into law, the Congress has passed several amendments to the basic law which in each instance has benefited our old folks. We have seen its coverage extended until now every home is directly or indirectly concerned about its application. The Congressman stated that he would wholeheartedly support the legislation with the hope that improvements would be in order when the Congress convenes next January.

Dulles Has Important Date With Latin-American Friend

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Barring a last-minute cancellation, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will roll down to Rio de Janeiro for conferences with President Juscelino Kubitschek and other Brazilian officials August 5-8.

Even if the Middle East crisis or summit conference developments postpone the meeting, it won't be for long because this meeting is considered important.

There's a concerted effort to make it more than a conference of the two governments to discuss their own problems. The inspiration of Kubitschek's original letter to President Eisenhower, suggesting a thorough review of hemisphere understanding, was the rough treatment given Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his Latin-American good will tour.

The Brazilian president said this showed that Pan-American unity had suffered serious impairment.

Actually, there is some ground for believing Kubitschek is using the Nixon incidents as an excuse for seeking solutions to some of his own serious internal problems.

Also, nobody authorized the Brazilian president to speak for other Latin-American heads of state. There is some resentment that Kubitschek is setting himself up as chief negotiator.

IT IS ADMITTED that Brazil has been one of the staunchest allies of the United States in Latin-America. Brazil furnished troops for World War II and has traditionally supported American foreign policies.

In return, the U.S. has given Brazil more aid than any other Latin-American country.

U.S. private investments in Brazil have more than doubled in the last eight years to a total of over 1.2 billion dollars today. Of the 2.1 billion dollars the Export-Import Bank has loaned to Latin-America, 1.2 billion has been authorized for Brazil. Brazil is currently negotiating for another 150 million dollar credit. Since it will owe Export-Import Bank 91 million dollars in principal and interest during the coming year, it is considered probable that at least this amount will be refinanced.

Brazil has received 190 million dollars' worth of U.S. agricultural surpluses and 20 million in technical aid.

Also, Brazil has obtained 181 million dollars in loans from World Bank. It has withdrawn 112 million of its 150-million reserves in the International Monetary Fund.

THE UNITED STATES now takes half of Brazil's exports and supplies a third of its imports. Total exports last year were 659 million dollars and imports 548 million.

Brazil spends over 200 million dollars a year on petroleum imports because it has no oil production of its own. Development of oil is a national monopoly and foreign capital has not been allowed to explore or produce.

The principal cause of Brazil's bad financial position, however, is overproduction of coffee, an internal problem.

Coffee normally accounts for 80 per cent of Brazil's foreign currency earnings. Coffee prices have dropped as the prices of other commodities have risen.

INFLATION HAS DRIVEN the cost of living up 28 per cent in 1956, 11 per cent in 1957 and 11 per cent in the first five months of 1958. It's no wonder that Brazil is yelling for help.

President Kubitschek proposes an inter-American conference on the highest political level to deal with this situation generally. He wants it before the next scheduled meeting of the Organization of American States at Quito in 1959.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Treasury's financing problems and a growing belief that a new round of inflation is starting have brought the yield on bonds today strikingly close to that on stocks. That is, bond prices have gone down, making a return on their fixed rates higher if bought today. And stock prices have gone up while corporate earnings were falling and dividend payments were mostly static or dwindling, making a return on stocks at today's prices smaller.

Traders in stocks and bonds are disturbed both over the growing belief that inflation is inevitable and over possible effects on the money market of the steps that the Treasury, aided by the Federal Reserve System, may have to take in the months ahead to finance the growing federal debt.

At first the U.S. bond market's troubles were blamed on speculators who bought on slip margins hoping for a quick kill. When the price of newly issued government securities, which they had thought were priced below the market, went down instead of up, they were forced to sell at a loss, further upsetting the market.

But some observers are looking for more far reaching causes than the speculator's getting burnt fingers. They cite the Treasury's subsequent refunding of a little more than 16 billion dollars of maturing government securities. The return on the new offering seemed right, but the Treasury says that holders of around 2 1/2 billion dollars asked for cash instead. This was 17 per cent of the total.

But the National City Bank of New York points out today in its August bank letter that the Federal Reserve held many of the exchanged securities and had bought more of the old ones just before offering to help the treasury.

Counting out the securities held by the Fed, which automatically exchanged for the new, 29 per cent of those held outside the system were turned in for cash.

And the bank adds that the Fed also bought more than one billion dollars of the new offering from outside holders on a when-issued basis, which are being turned in for the new securities. The bank figures this brings public holders demanding cash to 42 per cent of their original holdings.

Out of this came renewed downward pressure on bond prices, both government and corporate — and hence higher yields at today's prices.

U.S. Government bonds are the safest in the land. They will be repaid in full. But the bank points out that in times of creeping inflation the fixed return on bonds looks unattractive to those who see the market value of the dollar receding.

Early Lumbering Events Recalled

Former residents of Hicks Run, descendants or relatives of families once living there, are cordially invited to attend the annual reunion of this once-prosperous lumbering community established early in the century by the John E. DuBois Lumber Company.

Set for next Sunday, August 10, those in charge of arrangements are anticipating the largest attendance in the village's long history.

Those not familiar with the reunion and community history will find the following brief resume of interest:

Shortly after the turn of the century, the late John E. DuBois, opened lumbering operations at Hicks Run. A large double band mill, lathe mill, planing mill, general store, large community building used for religious and other civic purposes, along with some 150 homes and two boarding houses, were built at the junction of Hicks Run and the West Branch of the Susquehanna River.

In the dense forests some 10 miles above the village, large camps were erected and, at its peak, some 1,000 employees were engaged in the various phases of lumbering.

The latter part of 1912 saw the end of those operations and Hicks Run became but a memory. That memory, however, is revived each year in a gathering of those men and women, their descendants, relatives and friends, who come back "home" for a day.

Discipline Is the Other-- And Necessary--Side of Love

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the second of six excerpts that will appear during her absence from "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child" by Hilde Bruch, M.D., copyright 1952 by Hilde Bruch. Used by permission of the publisher, Farrar, Straus & Cudahy, Inc.)

The great dilemma of parents is the question of direct discipline. One can answer it very simply: parents do love their children, and being convinced of it, they can also exercise discipline. The trouble is that parents have been made afraid to use authority and discipline.

The simple fact is that a child needs both because he cannot live happily if he does not learn to feel at home in the world, now as a child and later on as a grownup.

The dictum that love and affection are the only important emotions has been distorted to such an extent that parents are afraid that any other expression on their part indicates that they do not love their children enough.

If correctly understood, there is no contrast between discipline and love. They belong to different levels of human experience. The confusion of contrasting discipline and love may lead to real neglect of the simplest discipline, at the bottom of which there may be ignorance rationalized by the fear of losing the child's love.

Many parents have become so impressed with the need to be always loving and "accepting" that they no longer dare to recognize and to express their true feelings. It is important to remember that parents are human beings too and react with anger if provoked.

A child may experience interference, with his impulses as something that makes him anxious, something "bad." This type of uneasiness is essential for his development, because only in this way can he learn necessary restraint. Without such guidance he would develop nothing of what we call conscience, nothing of ideal, of aspiration, all concepts that are essentially human.

It has often been misstated that if we would only prevent children from feeling anxious or insecure at any time, then they would be happy forever after. If it were possible to carry this demand into practice, one would raise creatures without any awareness of human consideration and without the ability to control their impulses.

It has become one of the modern legends that interference with a child's wishes or behavior leads to "frustration." Such generalities are meaningless.

End of Child-Raising Begins Chapter II in Couple's Life

Want insurance against you and your husband finding your life together dull and meaningless once the children are grown and gone from home?

You can have it if you start preparing for the time long before it comes.

By the time the last child leaves home, you and your husband should have several engrossing hobbies or leisure time activities which you share, and some that you don't.

You should have good friends your own age whose companionship is easy and pleasant.

You should have plans for just the two of you—as bright and ambitious as the plans you had for your children.

You should have begun to simplify your living, so that you aren't tied to unnecessary chores when you do have the freedom to come and go and do pretty much as you please.

You should be willing to let your children lead their own lives, instead of thinking that their problems are yours to solve and their difficulties are yours to straighten out.

You should look forward, instead of backward. The family years were busy, rewarding years. But the years ahead can be busy, rewarding years, too, if you look for the advantages in being a couple again, instead of expecting nothing but the loneliness of not feeling needed. After all, you will need each other more than ever when the children are gone.

You should be willing to make the effort to have new experiences, instead of settling down into a monotonous routine. Why cling to the comforts of home if you can travel and see new places and make new friends and share new experiences?

With imagination and planning, a couple can assure themselves that the second period in their lives when there are just the two of them again can be as happy as the first.

Antidote for the restlessness youngsters often experience during the late summer "dog days" is a long-range activity that will enlist their talents and give them something to look forward to.

One such activity successfully tried in many communities is the junior outdoor art show. Such an event is both creative and flexible.

Neighborhood mothers might suggest a show for all the youngsters on the block; junior art shows are often favored by an organized group.

A smaller project: an art show staged within a circle of immediate friends.

ALL CHILDREN should be encouraged to participate, no matter how young. The most interest is usually found in the five-to-11-year-old group.

We're going to try one in our neighborhood as a star attraction on the Labor Day weekend.

I'm indebted to Mrs. Corinne Murphy, program specialist in the arts for the Girl Scouts, for some definite ideas on how to help the venture along.

Mrs. Murphy is the director of a summer arts festival held in Asheville, N.C., this year.

ENCOURAGE CHILDREN to be creative, she says, but remember that most youngsters need some guidance. Discuss general themes for the art work and let them choose what they want to do.

If a circus has been in town recently, there's plenty of subject matter in mind. Beach, boats or other vacation activities are good subjects to suggest.

Very young children find it

easiest to work with crayons, chalk, poster paints and tempera, Mrs. Murphy says.

Water colors require more skill. Some older children might want to make their entries with scraps from the sewing basket and other odds and ends.

Backgrounds for pictures or those paste-ups can be any firm white or light-colored paper.

Incidentally, garden paste-ups, or collages, are good for summer: double-faced cellulose tape can be used to hold leaves and flowers to the background.

The afternoon rest periods and many days are good, times for young artists to work. Encourage them to make several paintings and to select the ones they want to exhibit.

Those can be framed a few days before the show. Shit cardboard or pieces cut from cardboard boxes are useful for backing.

Tape or paste the picture to the board and "frame" with colored construction paper or colored plastic tape.

The site for the show depends on whether it's sponsored by a group or is a more-or-less private event.

Walls and fences are sturdy backdrops for paintings held in place by masking tape which won't hurt the surface.

I think our picket fence will be just about long enough for the exhibit area. Mothers, dads and friends are expected to visit the gallery, of course.

In a show staged by an organized group, questions such as charging admissions or selling the paintings should be carefully discussed. For the informally organized neighborhood display, admission is rarely charged nor are paintings sold.

Luther Leaguers Planning Roast

LUDLOW—Luther Leaguers shifted their planned wieners roast from The Pines at the Hoffman Farm to Wildcat Park, when the rains came, with 16 present to enjoy a very successful affair.

President Carol Ralston conducted a short business session and called for Bible verses to be selected by the group. Members will be asked again for these verses at the next meeting, when, it is hoped, the corn will be in season and the weather man will provide a clear night for a corn roast at The Pines.

Carol Ralston and Judy Johnson, who recently attended Mt. Tremper Lutheran Conference Camp, gave reports of their travels and the leadership session held there. At future meetings, they will lead the prayer and Bible study sessions as taught at camp and will help organize for next year programs based on study at camp. Winifred Jones led the devotions; Fred Johnson conducted group singing.

Five local women attended the Missionary Seminar held at Chautauque Lutheran Conference Camp: Thelma Olson, Susanah Krantz, Mrs. LeRoy Johnson, Mrs. Emil Nelson and Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Dr. Thorsten Gustafson, Mrs. Theodore Lundquist, Verna Lofgren and three other former missionaries to India were among the speakers. Unified societies were discussed and a project handicraft hour was held.

REMEMBERS FOR TOURNAMENT PLAYERS

R. H. Larsen, bridge tournament director from Jamestown, reminds area players the regular season of Down One Club will be played at 8:00 p. m. Friday and all are asked to be on hand promptly; also that he must have reservations between August 11 and 13 from those who expect to go to the Inter-City Team of Four Event at North East on August 17. Opening session for that tournament will be at 1:00 p. m. with dinner served prior to the evening game.

Last Friday night's Down One Club game was the monthly Master Point event, with Mrs. Miles Van Norman and Mrs. C. Ross Beaty first in North-South with 178 points against an average of 145½. Other high scoring pairs in this section were Mrs. Daisy Broadhead and Mrs. Oscar Hegquist, 163; E. J. Rupp and Mr. Larsen, 162½; D. L. Vetter and Henry Hunzinger, Warren, 150½.

East-West Master Point and prize were won by Louis Wallace and Dr. M. D. Battler, who scored 178 against a field average of 135. ## Golden Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Phillips, Corry, are holding open house for the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents August 9 at the Garden Room of the Vets' Club in Corry, 1.00 to 6.00 p. m.

The celebrants are well known in this area, both having lived in Youngsville as children. Mrs. Phillips is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Crippen.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were married 50 years ago October 14, but the celebration is being held earlier to accommodate relatives in California wishing to attend the function.

Ten children born to the couple include Meresa Spaulding, Mrs. Cleo Hatch, Everett Phillips, Mrs. Charlotte Williams, Mrs. Virginia Pyley, Eugene Phillips, Mrs. Mayolyn Knovilton, Mrs. Karolynn Schutte, Mrs. Dixie Grace, and Harry Phillips, Jr. There are also 25 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

All friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend the reception and make the celebration a happy one.

BOUTON FAMILY ENJOYS REUNION

The third reunion of the Charles and Anna Bouton family was held August 4 at Wilder Field in Irvine, with 40 relatives present. Dinner was served at 1.30, followed by a business session when two births were reported, daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Emory Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Renold Parker, both of Jamestown, N. Y. No marriages or deaths were reported for the year.

Letters were read from the following relatives unable to attend: Mr. and Mrs. William White, Hollywood, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sandstrom, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cedergust, Evanston, Ill.

Committee this year were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cedergust, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Rulander, of Warren; next year's committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Renold Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Whitnev, Jamestown, N. Y., the location to be announced later.

Vice Chairman Clarence Swanson conducted the services in the absence of vacationing Pastor Obinger. Among visitors on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Forche and family, Philadelphia, visiting the Jake Edlings in Warren.

GLADE UNION VOTES TO DISBAND

Glade WCTU held its regular meeting in the Winger Room of Grace Methodist church, Miss Lillian Hook leading devotions on the theme "We are kept by the word of God, and when we are born of God, He always keeps us". Her scripture was followed by a song "Pass Me Not", and prayer.

Following routine reports of the secretary and treasurer, Myrtle Kittner reported on sunshine activities; Vice President Margaret Schwab conducting the business session. Members voted to disband the Glade Union, because of lack of attendance and interest, those who wish to do so to meet with the Central Union.

It was also voted to give a Memorial to Parepa Wholeben, recently-deceased and a faithful worker in the union for many years. At the close of the meeting, Hostess Lena Woodruff served refreshments and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

MALE SHOPLIFTER

A male shoplifter was arrested and jailed in Titusville on Saturday for trying to make off with a carton of cigarettes from Loblaw's. Store manager John W. Crowell called police after he had confronted the shoplifter. The man was arrested for the same offense last April. Then he had a package of meat. He will be given a hearing today before Alderman N. Allen Love.

FUND CAMPAIGN LAGS

A total of $163,044 has been collected in Meadville on last fall's United Fund campaign pledges of $200,468. Paul C. Doherty, executive director of the fund, said this represents 81.5 per cent of the total which leaves a balance of $37,024. Doherty said United Fund leaders were most appreciative and proud of the excellent way Western Crawford County citizens have faithfully made their pledge payments.

AFTER DELINQUENTS

A drive is on in Titusville to collect more than $3,000 in school per capita taxes for 1957 which were not paid. The list of 327 names has been turned over to the delinquent tax collector, Allan Savard. There were 745 persons who failed to pay their per capita taxes, but 418 were exonerated because they had moved, died, were aged, ill, on pensions, unable to work, or in service. Tax collector Sara Nevins collected $186,003 in school taxes last year. The tax duplicate was certified to her in the amount of $198,753.

Decision Upholds Conviction of Collection Agent

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Superior Court has upheld the conviction of a New Castle man found guilty last year of violating a state law governing the operation of a collection agency. The vote was 5-2.

Edward Tucker, president of the Ideal Credit Adjusters, was convicted of violating a law stating that it is illegal to "coerce or intimidate any debtor by delivering any document simulating or intending to simulate a summons, warrant, writ or court process" to collect a claim.

He was fined $300 and court costs or one year in jail.

Tucker, a collector for the B. J. Furniture Store, was accused of filing an information against Charles and Helen McConnell of Akron, Ohio, on June 9, 1957, charging them with larceny of store merchandise. The couple was arrested and jailed for 18 hours until they paid a bill of $130.

Written by Judge Blair Gurnth, an opinion handed down Monday dismissed Tucker's claim that he was acting as a store employee when he filed the information.

A. P. DEATH RECORD

CHICAGO (AP) — Thomas E. Wilson, 90, one of the pioneers in the meat packing industry and board chairman of Wilson & Co. since 1934, died Monday. Wilson, long active in promoting 4-H Club activities for farm youngsters, started in the meat packing business in 1887. He was born in London, Ont.

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenneth Cooke Brownell, 53, chairman of the board of the American Smelting and Refining Co., died Monday. Brownell, active in many business and charitable organizations, had been with the firm since 1927. He was born in Everett, Wash.

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa (AP) — Bert Woodcock, 52, head of the Safety Education Department at Iowa State Teachers College, died Monday of a heart attack. Woodcock, former director of the Safety Education Division of the Iowa Public Safety Department, was born in Bagley, Minn.

It was a wandering man of the sea, a sailor, who really discovered New Mexico. A shipwrecked Spanish explorer, Cabeza de Vaca, walked from the Gulf Coast to New Mexico in 1536.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE—Dr. Jerry Freeman attempts to revive Mrs. Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas, 43, in an Indianapolis hospital after her apparent suicide attempt by an overdose of sleeping tablets. Mrs. Nicholas has been charged with the murder of pharmaceutical executive Forrest Teel, 54.

After zigzagging across the country on a flat car with a special depressed center, the 140,000-pound steel pressure tank built by Struthers-Wells Corp., of Titusville, pictured above, arrived at its destination, Sandusky, O., where it will become part of a twelve-million-dollar nuclear research facility.

Taking nearly a week to arrive at the Plum Brook Research Plant in Sandusky, the atomic reactor tank traveled 365 miles to make a 150-mile trip, utilizing the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Nickel Plate road and the Baltimore and Ohio, and even passed through Wheeling, W. Va.

The size of the tank made it necessary to clear the tracks of all other cars, and the zig zag route was necessary because of overhead and side clearances. Speed limit was 25 miles per hour and traveling was only done at night.

Struthers Wells built the $200,000 carbon steel tank, which is finished to mirror perfection inside with stainless steel, for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, and 19,000 man-hours were required to complete the job.

The unit, fitted with 68 openings of various kinds, will fit in a nest of pipes in the reactor building, becoming part of a facility which will be used to determine the effects of radiation on metals, engines and aircraft designed for atomic propulsion.

Another section of the new research plant will be used for research in nuclear power for rockets, missiles and space craft. Rocket and missile research facilities expected to be completed in two years, will cost more than $5,480,000. Engraving, above, courtesy of Titusville Herald.

New Finance Plan To Aid Building Of Sewage Plants

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Charles L. Wilbar Jr., state health secretary, has proposed a new financial assistance program to encourage construction of waste treatment plants.

"Some sort of incentive-type financial program is desirable for those communities which have no sewage treatment plants in operation or under construction," he said Monday in a statement.

Wilbar said, however, that the new plan need not have any effect on annual payments now being made to municipalities under the state's present plan.

Under the present plan municipalities which have built sewage treatment plants as part of the state's clean streams program receive annual state payments ranging up to 2 per cent of the cost of the plants.

The payments are made to help the municipalities operate, maintain and repair the plants. Funds for the payments must be appropriated by each successive legislature.

Holeva is listed as a teleman on the USS Galveston, currently at Philadelphia.

PUMPING SALT WATER

The redrilled oil well at Pit-hole, near Titusville, is still pumping salt water. At 10 a. m. Sunday it began its third day of producing about 15 barrels of water an hour. The well is owned by James D. Berry Jr. of Plumer. It is on the Pit-hole flats where 2,000,000 barrels of oil has been produced there since the field was abandoned about 1868. The well, Berry No. 1, was redrilled this summer. It is pumping from 590 feet and is making a little gas.

BRAKES FAIL

A brake failure caused a $1,000 accident about 3:30 p. m. Monday when a car failed to stop as it left Warren State Hospital grounds onto Route 62. According to troopers, Louise M. Maversberg, 23, of Sigel, Pa. was driving toward the highway when her brakes failed, sending the car out onto the highway. Coming south and unable to miss her was James Edward Henry, 16, of 24 South Street, Warren. Damages were evenly divided as the Henry car hit the other broadside.

MOCK PRACTICE

A 10-member team of Civil Air Patrol rangers successfully carried out its search and rescue mission at the statewide three-day mock attack practice exercises during the past week end. The group, members of Squadron 504 under the command of Lt. Alton Lorie, participated in the part of the rescue operation that originated out of Spilane Airport, Oil City. Guy Abbey acted as provost marshal at the Oil City installation. Abbey said the operation was a success. The rangers spent two days and a night in the out-of-doors while searching for a make-believe-downed airman.

August Weather Story

The weather maps below give you the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast for August. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Folks in the northeastern quarter of the nation will have it cool in August. But above-normal temperatures are predicted for the South Atlantic states and over the western half of the country. Thermometer readings will be about normal over the Central Plateau and Southern Plateau.

There will be just about as much—or a little more—rain throughout the eastern half of the nation as might be expected in August. Southern Plains will be dryer than usual.

A son, Frank Jr., 30, who identified his father, said tearfully: "When you play rough, you get hurt sometimes."

Frank Kierdorf was business agent for Teamsters Local 332 at Flint. His uncle was business agent for the Teamsters Joint Council 32 in Detroit and was an aide of Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

Both Kierdorfs had been called as witnesses before the Senate Rackets Committee in connection with its investigation of the union.

Frank was called last November. At that time he was accused by the committee of selling out union members by taking payoffs to call off strikes and of shaking down employers by threatening to picket them unless they used special labor counseling services. The committee sought to link these services with Kierdorf.

Herman Kierdorf was questioned last Friday about alleged shakedowns in the Detroit industrial laundry business.

Both men repeatedly invoked the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering committee questions. After last week's hearings Herman Kierdorf announced he had quit his Teamster job.

Both Kierdorfs had served prison terms for armed robbery.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Kierdorf's statement that he believed the attack was connected with union business threw the case clearly within the committee's jurisdiction. He promised an investigation.

The attending physician, Dr. Norman F. Gehring, indicated Kierdorf would live at least a few days, giving authorities a chance to question him further. The doctor explained that when patients survive the initial shock from severe burns, they generally live until complications set in.

He indicated Kierdorf's chances of survival are very poor.

Two investigators for the Senate Labor Practices Committee, Walter Hansen and Sherman Willse, waited in the hospital corridor.

"We're here on orders from Washington," Willse said. "We want to find out the facts of the case and report to the committee. If it deals with labor, and management, we are definitely interested."

Both Kierdorfs have long police records. In 1941, Frank and an accomplice robbed a collector for a coal company of several thousand dollars. He was convicted in 1942 and was sent to Southern Michigan Prison. He was paroled in 1945 and went to work for the Teamsters.

third stage, however, is of a hitherto untried solid propellant design, more powerful than the third stages of the Vanguard rockets fired to date.

The satellite, housed in the nose of the final stage, will contain a television-type scanning device with a gyroscope to keep it aimed constantly at the moon.

Johnson said that within six minutes after the launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., "we should know whether all the stages have fired successfully."

"Within 90 minutes we will know whether everything is on course. But then we will have to wait 2 1/2 days for the rocket to reach the moon—if it goes that far."

burning in Michigan of one of his aides, Frank Kierdorf, Hoffa replied:

"I have no comment whatsoever about anything."

He was accompanied by Edward Bennett Williams, general counsel of the union; George S. Fitzgerald, a Detroit lawyer, and David Previant, Milwaukee attorney.

McClellan, in his statement at the opening of the hearing, said Hoffa on his last appearance before the committee in August 1957 "suffered seriously from a lack of memory and thus avoided answering many questions."

"It is to be hoped," McClellan said with heavy sarcasm, "his memory has improved."

McClellan said an alliance between Hoffa and the underworld, if it exists, "places a dangerous force at the jugular vein of America's economic life."

Among other things, Hoffa faced questioning about why he let his union keep Kierdorf as a paid official after Kierdorf last November invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer committee questions.

The committee planned also to ask Hoffa for comment on testimony by Mrs. Nancy Dawson, a Detroit businesswoman, that a man representing himself as "Hoffa of the Teamsters" had threatened her with harm if she testified. Mrs. Dawson said last week she had no way of knowing who actually telephoned the threatening message.

Ohio Boy Winner of Sport Caster Contest

According to word received in Warren early this afternoon the winner of the Atlantic Junior Sports Casters' Contest, staged in cooperation with the Pittsburgh Pirates Baseball team, is Russell Johnson, of Martins Ferry, O., a college student and one of last year's finalists.

While this news is disappointing to Warren's entry, Joe Massa, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Massa, Morrison street, and his host of friends, it is gratifying to learn that the local youth made an excellent showing, and succeeded in being one of the eight finalists, the Ohio contestant being the grand winner.

flame anew if he tries to represent Lebanon at the summit or name one of his men as his delegate. The rebels—who also demand immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops—say Shehab should speak for Lebanon at any summit conference held before he becomes president.

Shehab said the national charter drawn up by all sects in this half-Christian, half-Muslim nation when the French left in 1943 "emphasizes Lebanon's independence and it is a clear Arab policy. Frankness in relations with our Arab brothers will be among the bases of the country's future foreign policy."

Chamoun's acceptance of the Eisenhower Doctrine had separated Lebanon from Arab forces led by U.A.R. President Nasser and was one cause of the revolt which led to the Maronites' landing.

Chamoun spoke to newsmen just before meeting with Robert D. Murphy, President Eisenhower's troubleshooter. The rebels have been pleased that Murphy used his influence last week to have the presidential election held. Chamoun's supporters have been happy with the recent arrival of more U.S. troops here.

Integration

ville, Tenn., that there have been 196 such enactments since the 1954 integration decree.

Seven states have resolved by legislation to close their public school if integration is forced upon them. Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia passed such laws this year. Taking this anti-integration step earlier were Alabama, North and South Carolina and Georgia.

If these laws are carried out, any integration victory in federal courts might prove a hollow one. Another result very well could be untold confusion and a serious setback to public schooling.

Arkansas, Florida, Texas and Tennessee also have put new segregation laws of various types on the books.

The Southern School News reported that 777 Southern school districts have been desegregated. Only roughly three times this number—2,122—it said, remain segregated in Southern and border states.

Greek Underworld Is Reported Marking Time

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The Greek underground EOKA waited today to see whether Turkish Cypriots and British officials would accept its offer to halt violence on this strife-ridden Mediterranean island.

Col. George Grivas, EOKA leader, announced in leaflets that he had ordered attacks on Britons and Turks stopped in an effort to end communal violence which has cost more than 100 lives since June 7.

It was the third cease-fire in two years proclaimed by Grivas, who has led the Greek underground's guerrilla war to unite Cyprus with Greece. The previous two truces were scrupulously observed.

LOUIS LESSIG

Word has been received here from Tulsa, Okla., of the death on Monday of Louis Lessig, 83 year old native of Erie, well known figure among older oil men of the area, and independent producer in Tulsa since 1920. Surviving are a son, Willis, of Tass City, Mo.; two sisters, Edna and Flossie Lessig, in Tulsa.

The body will be brought to Warren Wednesday morning and a graveside service will be held in Oakland cemetery at 11:00 a.m. Thursday. The Rev. Frank Kehrl will officiate for committal at the side of his wife, Hattie, who died in 1932.

MRS. J. A. ELDRIDGE, SR.

Mrs. Josephine Marie Eldridge, wife of John A. Eldridge, Sr., of Jackson avenue extension, died in her sleep at the family home during last night. Nearly 81 years of age, she was born in St. Louis, Canada, October 20, 1877, and was a member of Holy Redeemer church. A certificate of death from a heart attack will be issued by the coroner.

Besides her husband, she leaves the following children: Mrs. Alice Dailey, in California; Mrs. Mary Dailey, in Oregon; Mrs. Marie Wood, Jackson avenue extension; Mrs. Josephine Guignon, Bemus Point, N. Y.; Mrs. Edith Dahle, John A. Eldridge, Jr., and Lawrence Eldridge, Warren; also 34 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren; one brother, Henry Trembley, Warren.

Arrangements for services are incomplete and will be announced later.

Assassination Suspect Laid Low by Gunfire

PANAMA (AP)—Ruben Miro, who never made good on his promise to tell all he knew about the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon, survived a burst of gunfire from an unidentified automobile Monday night.

The 43-year-old lawyer sustained three wounds. His condition was described as not serious.

Miro and six other defendants were acquitted last December of complicity in the 1955 machine gun slaying of President Remon. Both before and during the trial he promised to tell all he knew about the murder but never made any revelations.

Despondent Man Talked Out Of Plunge Into Allegheny

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The man was troubled last night. He stood up several times, blessed himself and looked into the cold waters of the Allegheny River 100 feet below the highest point of the Ninth Street Bridge.

Traffic Patrolman Phil Morello was one of the first officers to arrive. He climbed an aerial ladder, grabbed the man's leg, holding firmly. They talked.

"What's on your mind?" Morello asked.

"I'm having trouble."

"Do you have any children?"

"I got one, a little boy five years old."

"You won't help him by jumping. Who will take care of him?"

"He'll understand."

"If you come down, you'll be able to take your little boy swimming."

The conversation suddenly shifted to another topic.

"Do you know a motorcycle cop by the name of Phil?" the man asked.

"That's me," Morello answered.

"Oh, I know your brother, Joe. He told me he had a brother Phil who was a motorcycle cop."

They talked for almost an hour. As they conversed, Police and firemen closed in gently. They shackled the man, handcuffed him and brought him down.

He was identified as Robert D. Flack, 28, a steelworker from suburban Wilkinsburg.

Bad Check Artist Is Nabbed for Car Theft

A bag check artist whose bouncing trail led halfway across the country left some of his worthless paper with a North Warren auto dealer.

Emory Mahan of Rambler Auto Sales left today for Spirit Lake, Iowa where one of his ears had been spirited after Deitrick Gray, 34, of Champaign, Ill. paid for it with a rubber check of approximately $2,000.

Mahan flew here last evening from Indiantown Gap where Pennsylvania National Guard is presently having a fifteen day field training program. An officer in Warren's Company I, Mahan left Warren this morning for Buffalo where he was to board a plane for Iowa.

Left behind at Mahan's agency a trade-in was another car which Deitrick had obtained by similar fraudulent means in his home town. As soon as the man left the Rambler show room he sped to West Hickory and converted the spare tire and wheel of his new acquisition into cash.

Sheriff at Dickinson County, Iowa became suspicious of the man and collared him on another worthless check charge. A check with Champaign authorities showed many more warrants awaiting Gray there.

He is presently in custody of Illinois officers and will be brought here for prosecution when they finish with him.

Large Squad Is Practicing for Challenge Game

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Fifty-eight of the finest scholastic football players in Pennsylvania and the nation were preparing today for a challenge game Saturday.

It will be the Pennsylvania squad, the Big 33, against high school greats from the rest of the nation. Pennsylvania has challenged the best that the rest of the nation can muster in an attempt to prove a claim that the Keystone State produces the most and the best scholastic footballers.

The All-America team, 25 strong, arrived Monday night from the East-West All-Star Game at Memphis, Tenn.

The Big 33 also came up to full strength with the arrival of four Pennsylvania squad members who took part in the game.

Bernie Bierman, former University of Minnesota coach who is coaching the Pennsylvania team, called off scheduled scrimmages to avoid further bruises.

"I don't think that we will have any more scrimmages this week," he said. "Maybe a little, but most of our time will be devoted to polishing the offense."

Bierman said the team "has started to jell." He listed a tentative starting lineup for the game although he said, "We know there will be some changes."

The lineup listed by Bierman was: Ends—Dave Rodman, Harry over, Paul Jaeger, Reading; tackles — Darwin Wile, Middletown, Wally Grudi, Washington; guards — Larry Vignali, Masontown, Don Seneca, Harrisburg; center—Bob Hanak, Sharon; quarterback—Samford Stephens, Uniontown; halfbacks—Lee Fisher, Williamsport, Ike Johnstone, Steelton; fullback — Al Gursky, Gov. Mifflin.

Viscoe Co. Is Closing Plant in Roanoke, Va.

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—American Viscoe Corp. announced Monday that it planned to discontinue operations here. It said no date for the shutdown had been set nor was it determined yet how many employees would be offered jobs in other Avisco facilities.

The Roanoke plant, employing some 1,750 persons, makes continuous filament fibers. The same operations are performed at Avisco plants in Lewisville, Pa., and Parkersburg, W.Va. A company spokesman said there probably would be an increase in the number of employees in these two plants.

Politics Behind Ashburn's Rise to Batting Leadership

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Politics is the inspiration behind Richie Ashburn's rise to the National League batting leadership.
"If I don't hit, they won't listen to me this campaign," said Richie today before the Philadelphia Phillies left for Cooperstown, N.Y. They play Washington in the annual Hall of Fame game.
"They" are the voters of Nebraska's Third Congressional District where Richie plans to stump this fall for Robert D. Harrison (R-Neb) in a bid for his fourth term in the U.S. House of Representatives.
Richie, 31, in his 11th season as Phils center fielder, figures the electorate is more likely to listen to political pearls from the National League batting titleholder than from an also-ran.
"Otherwise, I don't care whether I win the title or not," he said. "I'd like to win it, understand, but I'm not going to press for it."
Press or not, Ashburn sprayed eight hits in 13 times at bat around Connie Mack Stadium against Chicago Sunday and Saturday and boosted his average from .332 to .342. He holds a seven-point lead over slumping Stan Musial of St. Louis and Willie Mays of San Francisco.
Ashburn, in the midst of his best season since 1955 when he hit .338 to win the batting title, is 13 hits from 2,000.
Like the politician he is, Richie, a Tilden, Neb., native, is properly evasive when it comes to discussing his political future.
"I've been interested in the Young Republicans for some time," he said. "I don't know running for office though."

Jamestown Accident Victim Mourned by Warren Friends

Death of little Richie Mole, Jamestown High School's right halfback during the 1957 season, Thursday as result of injuries received in an auto accident July 18, was learned here by local grid fans with great sorrow.
Mole was well known among Warren High gridgers.
Said head football coach at Jamestown, Walter Colburn: "His death was terrible news to me. He was a quiet boy but a studious fellow with a sense of humor and a fine athlete."
Not a prolific scorer, young Mole, 18, was a demon on defense, time and again rushing up from his secondary post to make key tackles. One of his former coaches once remarked, "He's the toughest kid on that field."
The 5'6" 140-pounder was credited with two touchdowns but definitely portrayed the role of a "setup" player with repeated long-gamers which put the Raiders within sight of the final stripe on numerous occasions.
He reached his greatest heights in the finale when Jamestown defeated Warren 12-0 in what announcer Cliff Olson described as "Winter Wonderland" due to the abundance of snow.
Three paragraphs taken from Jamestown Post-Journal, accurately depicts the situation:
"Ed Lesser and Richie Mole were heroes in the triumph, Jamestown's 27th in the 54-game series which was born in 1899; died for two years in the forties and revived again in 1951."
"Eager Ed, playing his final game as were ten other starters, slashed the final six yards of a drive that started at Warren's 40-yard stripe, while Mole's 55-yard teepee sprint was off a reverse."
"Mole's long gallop was the result of some fine backfield operation. Ensero faked gives to Lesser and Scarpino then fed off to the 140-pound speedster, who outran Warren's safetyman, Dick Terry."
Times-Mirror reported on the traditional rival game: "After holding Jamestown powerhouse scoreless in the first quarter, fullback Frank Scarpino contributed two additional yards through the middle. Richie Mole then burrowed to the five, but a fumble and penalty put the Raiders back to the 15."
"But, not to be denied, Red Raider Mole once again brought the ball down near the flag wavers and fullback Lesser plowed through the snow for a TD from five yards out."
"Jamestown scored again in the third when the Mole oozed into the secondary, found himself in the clear and romped 65 yards to score."

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australian Davis Cup Captain Harry Hopman believes Italy could defeat the United States and be Australia's challenger for the Davis Cup this year.

Speaking of Sports

Longest hitting streak by a Pittsburgh Pirate player this year was the 15-game by slugger Frank Thomas in the 15 contests immediately following the All-Star game break.
Not only the longest streak in Thomas' career, but it was the longest for Pirates since Danny O'Connell set the Pirate team record at 26 in 1953.

Bob Skinner's history-making homer over the right field roof at Forbes Field Friday, July 25 against the Giants, was only the fifth such wallop in the 49-year history of the field. Skinner became the fourth man in regular season play to hit such a homer over the 90-foot second deck. He joins Babe Ruth, 1935; Ted Beard, 1950; Mickey Mantel in exhibition game 1953; Wally Moon in 1956.

Big Tank Younger stretched his full frame across his bunk at Pittsburgh Steelers training camp in California, Pa. His six-foot-three, 230-pound body covered almost the entire bed and his long arms hung listlessly to the floor. "I feel great," he answered his interviewer. "I think changing from Los Angeles Rams to Pittsburgh will do me a world of good. I've heard a lot about Coach Parker and it all has been good." Steelers fans have been looking for a big full-back. They can stop. There is no question that Tank is the biggest back ever to come to the Steeler camp.

A letter from Pittsburgh and a big helping hand from Kane Moose Lodge spurred Kane Area Quarterback Club's new uniform drive Friday. The club formed to boost the high school program at Kane, is attempting to sell 1,000 membership tickets at $1 each. If it can be done, the club will be able to purchase 24 new game uniforms for Kane High grid squad.

Robert "Bucky" Parisi of Ridgway has been signed to a Class B baseball contract by Los Angeles Dodgers. Bucky, a 19-year old sophomore at Indiana State Teachers' College, will report to the Bums' Vero Beach, Florida training camp next month. He is a Ridgway High School product and played baseball, football and basketball for the Elfers.

Heap Big Injun

Cory Beavers have felt the high cost of living pinch and their tickets have been upped a quarter this season—except for students. Athletic Council at Corry Area High School decreed this week that the spectator rate would be boosted from 75 cents to $1 this season after the school suffered one of its worst years, financially, on the fields of friendly strife. Dances and other activities have been planned to get the athletic fund back on its feet, while the five-game home slate for '58 may, with a little co-operation from the elements, help toward that goal. Lou Hanna's gridgers will compete on CAHS field against Oil City, Johnstown, Titusville, Millcreek and Meadville. Four road encounters include Warren, Franklin, Bradford and Altoona.

Pirates will return to Forbes Field Friday for a five-day stand against Cincinnati Redlegs and Milwaukee Braves. Redlegs come into Pittsburgh for a four-game weekend series starting Friday night and continuing Saturday afternoon, with a big doubleheader Sunday afternoon. Defending champions, Braves, come for two games, Monday and Tuesday nights (Aug. 11-12). Game on the 12th is a makeup of April 21. Prior to this contest, second annual "Comedy of Errors" game between staffs of KDKA radio and TV and Pittsburgh Press will be played at 7:30. Following the Milwaukee game on the 12th, Pittsburgh goes on the road for three weeks playing all their National League rivals but the two West Coast clubs.

Braves' Prize Rookie Is Player of Month

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Jay, the Milwaukee Braves' prize new right-hander with a talent for strikeouts, is the National League's player of the month for July.

The league reported today that Jay polled 19 votes compared with 10½ for runner-up Ernie Banks of Chicago's Cubs. Baseball writers and broadcasters do not two shutouts, five complete games and fanned 46. His earned run average was 1.42 for 57 1/3 two losses during July. He pitched-innings.

Mary Hafey, Erie swimmer who tried to swim Lake Erie last month, will teach synchronized swimming and ballet at newly constructed Lake Shore pool in Erie Wednesday. Lessons are for club members.

Jim (Jazz) Moore is still running like he did for Erie Academics and Pitt U. Now running for Uncle Sam, Jim beat six teammates and 71 soldier-athletes from 12 other nations to win the individual title in the 1958 CISM military pentathlon championships at Athens, Greece last week. U.S. finished fourth behind France, Sweden and Belgium. Moore finished first in the concluding five-mile cross country run to cap his outstanding efforts during the grueling five day test. Other placements of Moore's included: shooting—scored an 81-86—167 out of a possible 200, firing 10 rounds each of slow and rapid fire at 200 meters for 13th place; obstacle course—a 3 01 2 clocking over rugged 500-meter lay-out netted him a 16th; grenade throwing—a distance heave of 198 feet, 5½ inches and 12 bullseyes on 16 throws netted him a 184 5 for fourth; swimming — France's 1957 swim winner Chuck Sarr shattered his own record with a brilliant 28 5 seconds clocking over the obstacle littered 50-meter course, but Moore placed third with a 31 8: cross country—therein lies the story as the well-conditioned five-foot, nine-inch 145-pound track ace out-ran the field for a 26:05.8 clocking against a very stiff wind.

Nino Restaurant Strengthens Hold On Third Position

After a shaky first inning, Nino's Restaurant strengthened their hold on third place in league standings by tipping Youngsville National 10 to 9 on West Side in City Softball action Monday night.

John Berdine took the win away from Haight of Youngsville behind strong hitting from teammates.

Chick Stewart had a sparkling 4 for 5 to pace Nino's powerful batting lineup. Big strikeouts for Youngsville were Haight with a homer and Johnson with a triple.

Last evening's win assures Nino's of a berth in the playoffs where manager Tanner plans to make a startling showing.

Betts Team Step Closer To the Title

In what could be a deciding factor in City Softball League playoff tournament, charges of "Chiff" Betts set the boiler-makers of Struthers Wells down for the fourth time this season last night on State Hospital diamond 14 to 10 before 125 fans.

Displaying an eager desire to win, Struthers lads jumped off to a five run lead on solid base hits, most outstanding being Hanson's bases-loaded-triple. Ace Gene Sweet then proceeded to keep Struthers in check while Black Knights came on to knot the score.

Betts then pulled into a distant lead on consistent base hits with Lefty Haight and Ned Bartholomew leading the way, gathering seven of the 15 hits. Top of the ninth, boiler-makers came up with one of their traditional thrilling last-ditch tries with five runs. Again led by the trusty bat of Tony Bonavita, the Struthers batter collected three of eleven hits, only to fall short again.

This being Betts' last League game, (Struthers has four make-up games on tap), Black Knights along with the entire League anxiously await playoff tournament starting the week of August 10. Only first four teams will participate out of the six League teams.

Bucs New Challenger in the Race for National Honors

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe the Milwaukee Braves can't start counting their World Series money after all. The Giants are still hanging around and a new challenger has appeared in the Pittsburgh Pirates.

After polishing off San Francisco in a four-game weekend series, the way appeared clear for the Braves to take the short road home to another pennant in the National League. It doesn't look so easy now.

The Pirates, who had won 10 of their last 12 previous games, not counting two suspended games, rode into County Stadium Monday night and proceeded to cool off the Braves 4-3.

Roberto Clemente's ninth-inning homer with the score tied hung a first defeat on Juan Pizarro. The Braves' six-game winning streak was broken and their lead over the Giants was cut to four games.

San Francisco whipped Chicago 6-4 in an afternoon game. The Pirates, fresh from a series sweep over St. Louis, all by shutouts.

are only six games behind the Braves and are challenging the Giants.

Willie Mays finally hit a home run, his first since July 2, and added two other hits to push his batting average to .338, a second-place tie with Stan Musial of St. Louis, four points behind the Phil's Richie Ashburn.

Musial snapped out of his slump with two doubles as St. Louis blanked for 33 innings, nosed out Los Angeles 2-2 on some brilliant pitching by Larry Jackson. The Cardinals righthander struck out 12, the last five in a row, and the last 17 Dodgers in succession.

Gene Greene's home run in the sixth broke a 2-2 tie and ended the Cards' seven-game losing streak. As a result of the victory, St. Louis moved up a slot to seventh, dumping the Dodgers into the cellar.

In exhibition games, Cincinnati lost the second half of their home and home set with Cleveland 2-1 in 13 innings. Philadelphia lost 5-4 to the Washington Senators in the Hall of Fame game at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Wildlife Will Benefit Through Ploughing Contest

Wildlife conservation, including farmer-sportsman cooperation, will be featured at the 16th National Plowing Contest and Conservation Exposition at Hershey, near Harrisburg, on August 21 and 22. The event is being held in conjunction with Pennsylvania Dutch Days.

"Working Together Through Soil Conservation Districts" will be the theme of the conservation aspects of the exposition which, for the first time, is being held east of Ohio and on a single farming operation. More than 2,300 acres of the 12,000-acre Milton S. Hershey Farms will be used for the event.

The Pennsylvania Fish Commission and the Game Commission have cooperative agreements with the Pennsylvania Soil Conservation Commission to work with farmers in the 50 soil conservation districts of the state.

The Fish and the Game Commissions of Pennsylvania will sponsor exhibits and field demonstrations at the national event. Each exhibit and demonstration will emphasize the importance of conserving the state's fish and wildlife resources, will compare good and improper management methods and cite the advantages that accrue when farmers and sportsmen work together.

Soil, water, forest, fish and wildlife conservation exhibits will be arranged in a two-acre wheel-type layout, with the displays forming spokes of the wheel.

In addition, actual demonstration areas will be situated close to the plowing contest site, along the route of the wagon train that will transport thousands of visitors without charge.

A Game Commission spokesman stated his agency's exhibit will, in concentrated form, show good wildlife management practices for small game and all other protected birds and animals. He said the display will feature three-dimensional pictures which emphasize the importance of wildlife conservation. Field demonstrations by the wildlife authority will highlight proper woodland border cuttings to assure food and cover for birds and animals during the nesting season.

A Fish Commission representative reported that his agency's conservation exhibits will include charts showing stream improvement devices, along with fish in an aquarium. In the demonstration area, the Fish Commission's program will embrace both good and poor farm pond management practices, he said.

Personnel of the two State Commissions will man their respective exhibit areas and demonstration sites during the two-day exposition.

Associated events during the week are expected to attract many out-of-state visitors to Hershey.

Senators Holders Of Annual Hall Of Fame Trophy

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (U.P.)—The Washington Senators, mired in the American League cellar, have one consolation prize—the Hall of Fame cup.

The Senators knocked off the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4 Monday in the 17th renewal of the annual major league exhibition game at Doubleday Field before 8,515 fans. The victory gave the American League a 9-8 edge in the series.

Vito Valentini pitched five hitless innings in relief of starter Jim Constable to beat Seth Morehead. Albie Pearson of Washington and Willie Jones of the Phils hit home runs.

Six of the 31 living members of the Hall of Fame attended ceremonies at which a new Hall of Fame building was dedicated earlier in the day.

No new members were elected to the Hall this year by the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Braves Manager Not in a Hurry For Celebration

By CROOK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves today was like a man holding the winning tickets of a record daily double who hesitates to celebrate until he collects at the payoff window.

The job his National League leaders did dismantling the ambitious San Francisco Giants Sunday didn't move him to make any rash statements. His Braves now have won six in a row while the Giants have lost six straight.

"I'm playing it no different from last year," said the ever-careful Haney after the Braves completed a sweep of a critical four-game series by taking a pair from the Giants 4-2 and 6-0. "One game at a time."

"Oh, sure," he continued when prodded by his listeners, "these four games were important and our five-game lead is comfortable. It gives us a cushion, but don't forget one little losing streak and we're right back with the pack. Now we'll concentrate on Pittsburgh. The Pirates are our next opponents."

Haney then made a statement with which there can be no argument.

"If we keep winning nobody is going to catch us."

Then the little man with the world championship ball club reviewed the past few weeks, noting the number of injuries the Braves have suffered. Two more of his players, utilitymen Mel Roach and Felix Mantilla, were forced out of action Sunday. Roach with a wrenched left knee that will keep him sidelined at least one month and Mantilla with cuts about the cheek and mouth.

Haney said if his club can keep its edge through four scheduled doubleheaders in the next 15 days "we'll be in good shape."

Erie Adds Demolition; Rejects Noisy Cycles

Erie Stadium Speedway officials announced over the weekend that a demolition race has been added to their weekly schedule, but the cycles have been removed.

Demolition race is one in which six cars race and bang into each other. When one car is left, that driver is declared the winner.

Neighbors complained of noise of the motorcycle races, so Speedway officials and school board have agreed to stop them, promoter Don Elbaum reported.

Regular features with a 25-lap headliner are included in Friday's show.

Willie Mays Leads Giants to a 6-4 Victory Over Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Like a doting father, San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney took outfielder Willie Mays by the hand and told him: "Don't get down on yourself, Willie. What happened in Milwaukee is something we can't make up. If you get down, these kids go down with you. If you get up, they'll rise behind you."

Wonderful Willie responded against the Chicago Cubs Monday with three hits, including his first homer in over a month, to lead the Giants to a 6-4 victory.

It was his finest hitting performance since July 2, when he last homered against the same Cubs, and it snapped him out of one of the worst slumps in his career.

"We're not out of this race by a long shot," said Rigney, a member of the 1955 Giants who overhauled the Dodgers to win the pennant after trailing by 13 games as late as Aug. 8. The Giants in first place a week ago today, are now five games behind Milwaukee.

"Little League" Championships Start This Week

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—For a handful of young Pennsylvanians, Friday will be a big day in baseball.

The winners from sectional tournaments in four corners of the state will meet here then to begin the two-day competition for Pennsylvania's Little League championship.

Phoenixville, Jessup and Bellefonte won tournaments over the weekend. The fourth team in the state finals will be decided at Sharon Tuesday when Mill Creek meets the winner of today's Hazlewood-Brookline game in Pittsburgh for the Section 1 championship.

Phoenixville won the Section 4 title, wallowing Conshohocken, 6-0, at Media. Hank Zehn's five-hit pitching and Bob Cicci's two-run homer led Jessup to a 3-3 victory over Big Valley, and the Section 3 title at Hazleton.

Bellefonte won the Section 2 crown at Latrobe with a 3-0 victory over Brownsville behind Dennis Leathers' one-hit pitching and Larry Conaway's two-run homer.

Friday's winners will meet Saturday for the state title. The final winner goes to New York for the Eastern Regionals Aug. 15-16. The regional winner comes here for the Little League World Series, Aug. 19-22, against three other U.S. Regional champions and champions of Latin America and Canada.

With 8 Weeks To Go Yanks Approaching 1941 Record

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

With almost eight weeks to go, the Yanks are rapidly approaching their own record of 1941 when they wrapped up the American League pennant by Sept. 4.

After their customary Sunday slump, the Yanks resumed their winning ways Monday night at Baltimore where Mickey Mantle hit his 29th home run during a 9-4 victory. It was the only game scheduled in the league.

As of Tuesday morning, the Yanks had 50 games to play. Second-place Boston, 16 games behind, had 52 to go. If the Red Sox win them all, the Yanks could clinch it by taking 35 games.

In fact, a 25-25 split by the Yanks would make it necessary for the Red Sox to take 42 of 52 just to get a tie.

The Orioles were off to a fast start before they sunk to their eighth straight defeat. Arnold Portocarrero, one of Manager Paul Richards' retreat jobs, was pitching hitless ball for four innings. Then the Yanks started to move. Each New York starter made at least one hit and six men knocked in runs. Bill Skowron's 11th homer in the fifth opened the Yanks scoring and Mantle's blast ended it. A four-run sport in the sixth broke a 3-3 tie.

Although Don Larsen had a comfortable lead, he gave way to Ryne Duren in the seventh after he hit a man and walked his fourth.

Duren didn't allow a hit in the last three innings.

Washington went up to Coopers-town, N. Y. and beat the Phillies 5-4 in the annual exhibition game for the Hall of Fame Cup. Cleveland nosed out Cincinnati 2-1 in 13 innings to square their two-game exhibition set.

Former Champ Plans Visit in Erie During Week

Former 126 pound champion Willie Pep will be stopping in Erie Wednesday and Thursday on his way to Painesville, Ohio, for his Saturday night battle with Jesse Rodriguez.

The 35-year old eighth ranking contender has run up one of the greatest records of all time. In 226 fights, Pep has lost only eight and three of those were to Sandy Sadler. Pep ran up 62 straight wins before losing to Sammy Angott, one-time light weight king. Sammy clutched his way to win over the Will of the Wisp.

After losing to Sammy, Willie won 73 straight. It took the murderous fists of Sadler to break that streak.

In all, the 5-foot 5-inch battler has defeated eight world champions and his skill has brought him to seventh position in all-time great featherweights according to Nat Fleischer.

Willie is in strict training for his coming fight in Boston with champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey. This is a non-title fight and if Willie can defeat the tough little champion, he will get a crack at the title later in the year.

Pep is being brought to Erie by FALS and is scheduled to work out sometime Thursday with Erie lightweights Johnny Bizzaro and Bob Walters.

This will be Pep's first appearance in this area since 1946 when he belted out Walter Kolby in five rounds at Buffalo.

Males have a higher death rate than females through all ages of life, the disparity being largely due to male susceptibility to accidents and heart ailments.

Nylon Is Sunglass News

Light, Colorful Are the Words

BY ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

New for sun wear this year are nylon frames in sunglasses for women. They appeared for men last year and were highly popular.

They are light as air and done in beautiful and simple designs. They're splashed with color, of course, and some of the nylon fashion frames come with silver or white wings across the corner of the frames.

Brand new, too, is the clip-over in nylon. These are feather-light, are done in a modified harlequin frame that's large enough to completely cover your regular frame. They're done in pastel pink, blue, white and black.

These nylon frames are unbreakable, a practical feature that a lot of women are going to like. And they're sufficiently inexpensive so that no one has an excuse for going about in the sun squinting.

Most women like to match their sunglasses to a favorite costume, be it swimsuit or dress. This gets rid of the gaudy Hollywood look and lends a chic appearance.

This girl reads at the beach in sun and safely wearing clip-over sunglasses. These featherweight nylon frames completely cover her regular glasses. They come in pastel colors as well as black, are budget-priced.

Forest-Stream Chatter

The three-day antlerless deer season, officially set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 15-16-17, will have a very limited number of licenses on sale throughout the state. Permits will not be sold by Pennsylvania Game Commission nor by Dept. of Revenue. Purchases must be made from county treasurers. Warren County has been allotted 15,000 licenses, with neighboring counties' allotment as follows: Crawford, Meadville - 6,500; Elk, Ridgway - 15,000; Erie, Erie - 5,000; Jefferson, Brookville - 5,500; McKean, Smethport - 16,500; Venango, Franklin - 6,000; At the present time there is no indication whether the antlerless deer permits will go on sale at any uniform date throughout the state.

Warren County stands 12th in the state in number of motor boat licenses issued in 1957 with 315. Dauphin County leads the pack with a huge 10,944 total. Licenses in Pennsylvania totaled 57,039 last year, up sharply over 1956 when 48,130 were issued. Sales of 10 top counties and counties in northwestern part of the state are:

Dauphin	10,944
Allegheny	6,191
Luzerne	3,844
Merger	3,278
York	2,741
Westmoreland	2,297
Lackawanna	2,152
Lancaster	1,984
Crawford	1,940
Lycoming	1,732
Venango	992
Warren	315
Forest	240

Gross revenue as a result of last year's sale was $116,850. Applied against the total would be an estimated $30,000 to cover cost of printing licenses and application forms and Rules and Regulations books and Revenue Department services in administering distribution and sale.

This moppet is going back to school in a one-piece dress with a two-piece look. It's done in wool jersey with permanently pleated skirt, a blouse that looks like a vest and white collar and cuffs. A Sheperdess design, it washes easily and needs no ironing.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Dorothy Roe Says---

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Women's Editor

Husbands, sons and lovers lead harrowing lives, in the opinion of many male critics. After reading a file of current periodicals, one might conclude that America is developing a race of woman-haters.

The U. S. female is accused consecutively of making sissies out of her sons, of dominating her husband, of driving her menfolk to early graves, of demanding minks, automobiles and diamonds in return for her affection, of idling away her days in beauty shops and at bridge clubs, of being spoiled, selfish and generally unbecomable.

Critics now John Fischer, editor in chief of Harper's magazine, who finds a new bone to pick, in an article entitled "The Non-sexual Behavior of the Human Female." He says all the Kinsey reports on sexual behavior are a waste of time, because most adults know all about such things anyway. It's the other traits of females which deserve study, in his opinion.

All women are deciduous, says Fischer. That is, they shed gloves, lipsticks, handbags and handkerchiefs like a tree sheds leaves, and men must spend a large part of their lives picking up after them.

This observation is no doubt well taken. Women often do have the habit of leaving a trail of small objects in their wake. But what about men?

Any wife will testify that much of her day is spent gathering up her husband's socks from under the bed or on top of the television set, removing his soiled shirts from the closet floor and putting them in the laundry hamper, collecting a assorted trousers and shorts from the corners of closet doors and hanging them where they belong, collecting the cuff links, lighters, matches, empty cigarette packages, soiled handkerchiefs and tie pins he sheds about the house as he makes his way from the front door to the bedroom to change clothes when he gets home from work.

Yet women keep on marrying these untidy males, and men keep on courting these deciduous women.

And the reason must be that they love each other, despite surveys, statistics and editorial heckling.
